HIXON SUGGESTED AS CANDIDATE FOR TOGA NOMINATION

Name of La Crosse Man Is Proposed at Stalwart Conference in Milwaukee Yesterday

"CHANGE STATE ADMINISTRATION"

This Was Keynote of Meeting Says W. E. Barber, One of Representatives from This County

WHITEHEAD AND PHILIPP OFFICIATE

Man Who Opposed La Follette for Governor Was Chairman; Met in the Twelfth Story

At the Milwaukee conference of twenty-eight republicans called by E. L. Philipp and held in the Twelfth—not the Eleventh—story of the Railway Exchange building yesterday, at which a call for a republican convention to be held in Madison, June 23, was issued, the name of Frank P. Hixon, La Crosse, was suggested as the man to make the run for the United States senatorial nomination.

Mr. Hixon today said he had not knowledge of the "boom" for himself and declined to discuss the suggestion.

W. E. Barber and P. J. Yerly attended as representatives of La Crosse conference. They were invited in letters sent into the county by E. L. Philipp.

The convention will be the first since 1904.

Ex-State Senator John M. Whitehead, Janesville, Wis., a reactionary who once was put up by the stalwarts in an attempt to beat La Follette for the governorship, presided as chairman while C. W. Fraser, Menominee Falls, was chosen secretary.

"There was one thing upon which we all agreed," said Mr. Barber this morning. "We decided that it is imperative that there be a complete change in the state administration." Mr. Barber also declared that lower taxes, less extravagance at the university and curtailing of the powers of commissions—the same "reforms" contemplated in resolutions adopted at the La Crosse and other "county conventions"—were favored.

Philipp Drafts "Call"

The conference adopted a "call" for a convention which was drafted by a committee composed of E. L. Philipp, John M. Whitehead, G. W. Hazelton, Milwaukee; O. W. Johnson, Racine; C. W. Fraser, Menominee Falls, and was decided to open campaign headquarters in Milwaukee with Mr. Fraser in charge. E. L. Philipp, in an interview following the conference, blamed the legislature for "the evils" which are alleged to have befallen the party.

Local Men Attended

The names of those attending the conference follow: E. L. Philipp, Milwaukee; J. M. Whitehead, Janesville; J. F. Bentley, Baraboo; Dr. E. H. Townsend, New Lisbon; W. E. Barber, La Crosse; P. J. Yerly, La Crosse; Spencer Haven, Hudson; Marshall Cousins, Eau Claire; G. B. Harris, Waushara; E. H. Shepard, Rhinelander; J. G. Monahan, Darlington; Fred Coon, Edgerton; John R. Bennett, Port Washington; C. G. Starke, Berlin; G. W. Hazelton, Milwaukee; Robert K. Coe, Whitewater; Otis Johnson, Racine; L. W. Perry, Gillett; F. X. Boden, Milwaukee; Paul Schardt, Gillett; Dr. F. A. Walters, Stevens Point; H. W. Barber, Neenah; G. M. Davidson, Beaver Dam; L. T. Crabtree, Cranston; C. S. Crosse, Stoughton; F. F. Wheeler, Waubesa; D. J. O'Kellier, Oconto, and F. G. Asbach, Ashland.

The Convention "Call"

"The call" for the convention is as follows: "It is a fundamental right under our form of government for the members of a political party to meet in convention and discuss the interests of the people. Although party conventions are not now provided for by law, political conditions in our state and nation demand that parties again assemble in conventions and discuss the remedies necessary to meet the demands of the people. There is a general stagnation of business that we believe to be the result of unwise tariff legislation.

University Is Hit

The extravagance of the university is bitterly complained of and the political meddling of certain persons connected with the university is the subject of wide-spread criticism.

"That the laws governing the construction of highways have opened the doors to extravagance and should be changed.

"That the laws controlling reforestation are unwise as are the laws controlling water powers and should be changed.

"That there is a general demand among the people to re-establish

TRAIN KILLS MAN ASLEEP ON TRACK

Coroner Langstadt Promises to Start Something Because Body Was Removed without Consent

BELIEVED TO BE WHALEN MAN

Papers in Pockets Lead to Identification as Ingvald Berge, a Farmer

Prosecution of those responsible may follow the removal of the body of a dead man from the Burlington right of way without the consent of County Coroner Herrman Langstadt. The body, believed to be that of Ingvald Berge, a Whalen, Minn., farmer, was found near Second and King streets shortly after 11 o'clock last night apparently killed by a Burlington train. Without notifying the coroner, police or district attorney, the body was removed to the Elbertson & Drake undertaking rooms at the order of Burlington employees, it is said.

Thought Asleep on Track

The dead man is believed to have fallen asleep on the track, where he was found dead by a train crew with the top of his skull and both arms mangled.

Coroner Langstadt today intimated that some action will be taken as the result of the removal of the body before he had viewed the remains, and without his sanction.

This is the second occurrence of the kind, in which a body has been removed without consulting the coroner, and Mr. Langstadt believes some action should be taken to enforce the law in this respect.

Law Investigating

Asked what action is proposed and against whom he will proceed, he said that matter is in the hands of District Attorney D. S. Law. Mr. Law today said that he will take no definite action until he has investigated the matter further.

Dr. F. C. Suiter, who examined the body shortly after it was found, is of the opinion that Berge was under the influence of liquor and was lying across one of the rails when killed. Both arms were mangled and the top of the skull crushed, while the rest of the body was not bruised, indicating that he had been killed by a wheel passing over the upper part of his body, and was not struck by the train.

It is believed that he crawled under a box car and was killed shortly after when the car was shunted by a switch engine.

Identified Late Today

The identity of the dead man was unknown until late this afternoon, nothing being found upon the body to indicate who he was.

Among the articles found on the body were a postoffice money order receipt numbered 17,349, sold at Peterson, Minn., during April; a gold watch bearing the initials I. B., and part of a torn sale slip with the words "Berge riding wild Indian" written across the bottom.

J. C. Dayton, the postmaster at Peterson, Minn., interviewed this afternoon, said that he had sold the money order to Ingvald Berge. This fact coupled with the corresponding initials on the watch, and the name on the sale slip, leave little doubt as to the identity of the dead man.

According to Mr. Dayton, Berge was a farmer about 21 years of age who resided with his parents near Whalen, Minn. He left for La Crosse a few days ago to attend the Gollmar Brothers' circus here last night.

Berge owned an "Indian" motorcycle, and the dead man was known to have visited motorcycle agencies here yesterday with a prospective purchaser to whom he recommended the "Indian" make.

Parents Due Tonight

Berge's parents were notified this afternoon and will arrive here this evening on the Southern Minnesota to identify the body. The body will be shipped to Whalen, Minn., if it proves to be that of Ingvald Berge.

The coroner today declared that no inquest will be held as little or no new information regarding the details of the accident could be unearthed by an investigation.

BUY HARDWOOD TRACT

ANTIGO, Wis., May 20.—Eight hundred acres of hard wood timber near the towns of Upham and Elcho was bought today by the C. W. Fish Lumber company from the Van Orwick estate and the Combined Locks Paper company, for $168,000.

CHILD BORN EYELESS

WHEELING, W. Va., May 20.—Surgeons were puzzled today when it was discovered that a child born last night to Mr. and Mrs. Ross Lasker in Warwood, a suburb, is without eyes. Though eyebrows are normal, spaces where eyes should be are blank. Incisions made today failed to find any trace of eyes. The child is healthy and otherwise normal.

MORGAN RAN THE NEW HAVEN ROAD TO SUIT HIMSELF

Directors and Officials Let Him Do as He Liked Without Opposition

SOLD RAILROAD AT AN ADVANCE

Unloaded Stock on B. and M. at $15 per Share Over Actual Value

BENEFITED INSURANCE COMPANY

Mutual Life Got the Profits After Being Forced to Sell Road Holdings by Law

BY JOHN EDWIN NEVIN

(United Press Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON, May 20.—That the late J. P. Morgan worked his will with the New Haven railway system, and its subsidiaries, unopposed by directors or officials, was more than ever emphasized at the interstate commerce commission investigation today.

With Charles S. Mellen reciting the various transactions of the company it was shown that Morgan had unloaded control of an entire railroad on the Boston & Maine, paying for it fifteen dollars and more a share than the price at which it was later found possible to buy the majority interest. The beneficiary of this proceeding, which was the sale of the Worcester, Nashua & Rochester railway, was the Mutual Life company, compelled by state laws to sell its railway stock.

Mellen told of the deal in a matter of course manner that greatly interested all present, but none quite so much as David Lamar, the "Wolf of Wall street," who followed every word of the former railroad magnate with evident appreciation.

Today's session, outside of the further emphasizing of the Morgan domination, was chiefly marked by the out-generalling of Joseph W. Folk, the commission's attorney, by Mellen. For more than an hour Folk wrangled with Mellen trying to force him into an admission that the railroad transactions connected with the several deals allied with the Boston & Maine-New Haven merger were paper transactions only and that all times the New Haven retained its interest in the Boston & Maine. Folk failed. Mellen was plainly thinking faster than either the lawyer or Commissioner McChord, who essayed the role of rescue.

Justification will be the reply of William Rockefeller and the high powers in New Haven to the amazing story of Charles S. Mellen, dealing with the Westchester amalgamation put through at a cost to the stockholders of $35,000,000. Mellen's criticism will be repudiated by his judgment attacked if the other directors of the system are called to testify at the interstate commerce commission inquiry now in progress.

Although only twenty-six miles of railroad were secured for the millions, it will be set forth that this road is a six track, high power line, extending from the Harlem river to the Connecticut state line and certain eventually to be worth many times the initial cost.

Have Watched Story

That this is the contention of Rockefeller and the men who were associated with him in the taking over of the two proposed railway systems, grouped under the heading "Westchester County Operations," was learned. They have been carefully following, by means of high priced attorneys, every word of Mellen's story. They will insist that nothing criminal has been divulged. The question in Westchester deal, they say, was whether too much was paid. On this point they say Mellen is alone in his criticism.

Although Morgan is dead, Rockefeller and most of the members of the board of directors who authorized the deal are alive. If the interstate commerce commission inquiry proves that the deal was fraudulent or illegal, they are individually liable.

Rockefeller is to be examined as soon as Mellen's story is complete and subpoenas have been issued for the other directors and for the high priced attorneys who advised the deal.

To Explain B. & M. Merger

Mellen resumed the stand today to throw further light on the merger of the Boston & Maine with the New Haven. The fact that he disclaims responsibility for the twenty year contract which the American Express company put through with the B. & M. just before the merger and which the New Hampshire railroad commission claims has cost the stockholders of the New Haven $700,000 annually ever since, brought the entire transaction into bold relief.

At a conference before the hearing today, Counsellor Folk and Mellen

WANT SILLIMAN FROM SALTILLO

Interest in Villa's Capture of City Centers in the Fate of U. S. Consul

OPENING TAMPICO WRONG MOVE?

May Be Considered as Against Non-Aggressive Policy Agreed to by United States

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Five battleships, four destroyers and one tender probably will be brought back from Mexico within a week. Acting Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt announced this afternoon that he hoped to have this shift made within that time.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—With a desperate fight in progress at Saltillo and the city entirely surrounded by Villa's troops, interest in the Mexican situation today centered in the fate of Consul Silliman. The state department believes Villa will take the city within 48 hours.

Consular Representative George Carothers, who is with Villa, has already been ordered, in this event, to determine immediately what happened to the vice consul there.

Promises that he would be produced have been disregarded so often that officials believe he may have been slain. If this proves true, it may end the mediation conferences.

So far as the administration is concerned everything has been halted to await the outcome of mediation.

There was a chance today that the action of the state department in declaring Tampico an open port may be brought to the attention of the mediators. Some officials here hold that such action, in view of the fact that Mexico City has been partly isolated through the occupancy of Vera Cruz, is a direct violation of the non-aggressive policy virtually promised by Bryan.

MAY COMPEL LOCAL OFFICIAL TO PUT UP FRAUD EVIDENCE

State Veterinarian O. H. Eliason in Interview at Madison Takes Crack at Dr. Furstman

SAYS HE DIDN'T CITE THE CASES

Maintains He Failed to Take Advantage of Opportunity Offered; to Be Asked for 'Goods'

DENIES BOARD IS IN POLITICS

Says Only Thing of That Nature Is That Injected Into It by Charges of Health Commissioner

That steps will be taken to compel Dr. J. M. Furstman, health commissioner, to produce evidence of fraudulent reports of tuberculosis tests is the declaration today of O. H. Eliason, state veterinarian and secretary of the Livestock Sanitary board which refused to order an investigation of the Furstman claims until the local official digs up "specific evidence" of the irregularities or frauds.

The state official failed to state just what steps will be taken to force the La Crosse officer to act as detective for the Livestock board and attempts to reach him today on long distance telephone to get this information were futile. Employees in the veterinarian's office at the state capitol in Madison said that he was out of the city and that they didn't know where he was.

Dr. Eliason also denies that there is any politics back of the board's refusal to order the investigation and maintains that the only thing of a political nature connected with the La Crosse man's alleged exposure is that which "Dr. Furstman has injected into himself."

Dr. Eliason said: "Referring to the charges made by Dr. J. M. Furstman of La Crosse, I can say that absolutely no specific charges were made by Dr. Furstman to the livestock sanitary board or to me. I asked him to make his charges before me or the board in writing, but he has failed to do either. If Dr. Furstman has any evidence he might better produce the same in an orderly manner. However, steps will be taken to compel Dr. Furstman to produce his evidence."

"As to playing politics, I have seen none in this connection, except what Dr. Furstman has injected into it himself."

Furstman Silent

Dr. Furstman's only comment on the Eliason statement was: "Let him go ahead."

He refused to state whether or not he would present the board with specific information.

NEW BADGER "U" FRAUD

CHICAGO, May 20.—Did you know there was to be a new university of Wisconsin?

Frank Euler didn't either, but he says he believed it when Jacob Benjamin told him there was, and he invested $4,800 in stock of the new enterprise. George H. Evans says he bought $400 worth of the pretty paper, too.

The police arrested Benjamin today. He has offices in a downtown building.

PICK CLASS PLAY

"Back to the Farm" is the title of the play which the seniors of the Onalaska Agricultural school have selected to present as their class play. The play will be given on the evening of June 3rd at the Onalaska theater, and those participating are working hard in order that a finished production may be given. Miss Ethel Burnham of the Agricultural school faculty, is coaching the players.

CHICAGO SWELTERS

CHICAGO, May 20.—Chicago was in its shirt sleeves today and the straw hat season opened in earnest. On the roof of the federal buildings, where the weather man holds out, the official temperature was 80; in the streets it was 83; in the office buildings it was —?

PLAN BAND CONCERT

A band concert and ice cream social will be given by the boys of the agricultural school at Onalaska tomorrow evening on the school campus, the proceeds of which will go towards defraying the expenses of the school annual. In case of unfavorable weather the concert will be held in the school auditorium.

DELEGATES GATHER FOR PEACE MEET

Mexican and U. S. Representatives and Mediators Convene Today

WILL IGNORE HUERTA'S PROTESTS

Mediators Consider that U. S. Has Right to Call Tampico Open Port

BY FRED S. FERGUSON (United Press Staff Correspondent.) NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 20.—Five automobiles whisked across the international bridge from Niagara Falls, N. Y., early today and Mexico's delegates to the mediation conference, to be formally opened this afternoon, had left United States soil and were ready to play their part in the peace drama here which will write history not only for the American government and Mexico, but the entire western hemisphere.

The Mexican party numbering 22 persons arrived in Niagara Falls, N. Y., at 7:30 a. m. today.

Hurried Over Line

Robert F. Rose, representative of the state department, met them at the station. Automobiles were placed at their disposal and they were immediately hurried to the Clifton hotel on the Canadian side.

From a source close to the mediators today it was declared that the action of the state department in declaring Tampico an open port would have no effect on the peace conferences.

General Carranza, having so far refused to take part in the negotiations, could not be called to task for shipping arms through the port and nothing short of occupation of Tampico by American forces could be considered aggression on the part of the United States, it was declared.

Shortly after 11 o'clock Justice Lamar and Frederick W. Lehmann, the American delegates, and Secretary H. Percival Dodge arrived at the Clifton house to pay their respects to the mediators. At that time it was understood Minister Suarez of Chile would not arrive here before tomorrow.

It is certain that the vast oil and land concessions in Mexico are to play a big part in the negotiations before the mediators. Not only must measures be taken to relieve the peons whose constant cry has been for the restoration of their lands, but pressure is expected from the wealthy land owners and holders of great oil concessions for assurances, that, in case of rebel success, General Carranza will respect their rights.

Among the Mexican delegates, Elguero may be regarded as the guardian of these interests, according to reports from Mexico. He is a direct or himself in many corporations.

Welcomed by Canada

Sir Joseph Pope, under-secretary of state of Canada, Minister Burrill and Senator Loughheed formally welcomed the Mexican and American delegates to Canada today.

Eduardo Suarez, the Chilean minister, was "lost" early today. He was expected to arrive last night and then was reported to be due this morning. But he failed to show up and was the only party to the conference who was missing.

Promptly at 3 o'clock this afternoon the mediation conference convened. Justice Lamar and Frederick W. Lehmann, the American delegates were the first to enter the conference room. They were quickly followed by Seniors Elguero, Rodriguez and Rabasa, the Mexican representatives and ambassadors DaGama of Brazil and Naon of Argentina.

The formal session lasted exactly thirty minutes and then adjournment was taken until tomorrow. Tonight the American delegates will meet the mediators in an informal session at 9:30 p. m.

REBELS ARREST ITALIANS.

LAREDO, Texas, May 20.—Nicholas and Miguel Farrara, Italians, wealthy merchants of Lampazos, Mexico, and Sabas Mireles, a Mexican citizen, were arrested by constitutionalists in Nuevo Laredo today and are held prisoners. The Farraras are charged with having financially aided the Huerta government, and Mireles is charged with being a secret agent of Huerta.

250 DIE IN RACE WAR

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 20.—Two hundred and fifty persons were killed and 300 wounded today, in the three day race war between Indians and negroes on United States fruit plantations near Puerto Barrios, Guatemala, according to a message received here today. An American negro's attempt to woo the Indian queen Nazada, caused the uprising against the blacks. The girl was later tortured by her tribe.

ROAD'S OFFICES BURN

FRANKFORT, Ind., May 20.—The general offices of the Clover Leaf railway here were destroyed by fire today caused by defective wiring. The loss is estimated at $75,000.

District Attorney Says No Action Will Be Started Against May; Hopes It Will Be a Warning

John Mitchell came to his death, the result of being struck by a motorcycle driven by Harold May. It was an accident and unavoidable.

This was the verdict of the coroner's jury in the inquest into the death of the Mormon Coulee farmer, killed between 1 and 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon on the Mormon Coulee road, but a short distance south of Henry Miller's saloon.

The verdict that the accident was unavoidable followed admissions by May, the driver of the machine, that he was traveling from 20 to 25 miles an hour and that he had noticed Mitchell walking along the road, while he, May, was still many rods away.

May on the stand admitted that there was a buggy coming toward the city and that Mitchell was going away from the city. He swore he tried to pass the buggy and that Mitchell, stepping two or three paces to the left, got in front of his machine. It would have been impossible to have avoided hitting Mitchell without upsetting himself, he swore.

His testimony indicated that he did not slacken the speed of the machine until he saw he could not miss hitting Mitchell.

The state law says the maximum speed on country roads shall be 25 miles an hour.

There is a qualifying provision, however, that the rider or driver of any motorcycle, automobile or other vehicle must

The Man From The West

By Frank Hurburt O'Hara

Copyright, 1914, by the McClure
Newspaper Syndicate.

They called her Tom. It was a name she had earned early in life, and it stuck by her all the way up to womanhood. Tom wasn't like other girls. Dolls never interested her, and such things as fancy work she thought insipid. Her mother used to worry over the youthful Tom's escapades throughout the countryside. She had given surprises all through her young life; but the biggest surprise was when she went West to teach. It wasn't at all like Tom—except that it did surprise those who knew her.

There was nothing peculiar about her selecting the West, however. There could not have been another New Hampshire girl better suited to western environment. Yet this was her first trip westward. Her father had taken her to other parts of the country, but he had had an eccentric notion that Tom, wild of nature, shouldn't go to the "untamed West," as he called it, "until her character was firmly molded." When she started off there to teach he was satisfied. Apparently he felt the molding had occurred. "All the Rockies themselves couldn't block her from the long, straight road," was the way he put it.

So Tom Campbell went out to the West. Her first letters home glowed with talk of massive mountains and canyons and vast, wide deserts, and all the etiquette of the open. Tom was delighted. She wrote such things as this:

"The West has taken hold of me, body and soul. It gets me in a sort of trance. When I think of returning east to live—well, I don't think about it! From now on, people, the great, throbbing West shall be my home."

As time went on her letters grew shorter, and they were given over to family small talk more and more, until she quite forgot anything about the "throbbing West." Then there followed letters stranger than the first ones—letters that echoed desolation and bitter longing for home and all the old New Hampshire associations. Poor Mrs. Campbell could not keep back the warm tears when she read such passages as these:

"* * * The West? Why, you can't imagine, you back in dear old New Hampshire, what that word signifies. You can't conceive all the misery it conveys. What Sherman said of war is true over and over again of this barren waste that people call the West."

"And the people? Oh, if you could but see the real, true westerner! He is colder and decidedly less agreeable than any snob we have in the East." A letter having comments of that sort falls like a bomb into a peaceful household. They wrote her to come home. She replied she would not surrender. Mr. Campbell was for going west, but she wrote back: "Don't you dare, you dear old dad. I'm all right. And I'll be home soon."

Quiet followed. Quiet punctuated by matter-of-fact letters. Afterward came this:

"I know you'll be awfully shocked when you read this, mummy, but I can't help it. Don't worry. It's really all perfectly fine. What I'm trying to say is—Oh, I wonder if a girl is always this way when she starts out to tell her mother she's going to be married? You see, that's what I have decided to do. Mr. Densmore has pressed me for an answer and I'm going to give it to him tonight. Send me on your blessing, and don't tell dad yet."

Mrs. Campbell did not faint for two reasons. She was not of the fainting kind. And she knew Tom's surprising ways.

Afterward the girl's letters were very cheerful. But what Mrs. Campbell looked for most and found least of was news concerning Mrs. Densmore. Tom had written once that he was forty, nearly bald, short and unprepossessing. That was beyond belief. It hurt the mother to feel that Tom should grow facetious about it. But it never had been her daughter's way to confide in any one.

When she returned from the West in the early summer Tom was as silent as her letters had been. All that was learned about Densmore they extracted piece by piece. The peculiar phase, too, was the fact that Tom was loquacious enough when it came to telling every one that she had become engaged, out West. It didn't matter who it was—Tom always told that—that alone.

One day in midsummer she remarked casually to her mother, "It's odd, isn't it, that one year's teaching should have been enough for me?"

This was the first time Mrs. Campbell had known that Tom was not going back to her post. The mother had never asked. But she was sure Tom had spoken repeatedly about going back West.

"Then you intend to be married this winter?" Mrs. Campbell ventured timidly.

Tom laughed. "Oh, it's a funny affair, my engagement."

"Well," remonstrated Mrs. Campbell, "if you're really engaged, Tom I think we ought to see the man some time before the week of the wedding."

Tom made no reply. But a week later she showed her mother a telegram announcing Densmore's intention of coming east the next week.

Of course the family and friends had drawn mental pictures of Tom's man from the West. Most of them were like Mrs. Campbell's—that of a tall, brawny, athletic embodiment of the western spirit—a "cowboy-gentleman," as some distant aunt described it. In reality, they found nothing of the sort when Robert Densmore came to them. As Tom had written, he was, surely enough, short and slight, and tending toward baldness. His personality pleased at once. He was forceful and quiet at the same time. Mrs. Campbell was sure she would like him for a son-in-law. She told Tom as much.

"Oh, yes," Tom had answered. But do you know, mummy, I doubt if I ever marry him!"

Mrs. Campbell was shocked.

"Never marry him? Why, Tom, you've told everybody for miles about that you are engaged to him, and—"

She paused, her vocabulary inadequate for the situation. Tom thoughtfully left her to her own reflections.

The next day, when the conversation discussed Densmore's approaching return, Tom calmly announced that she was going back, too.

"Just after we were engaged, too," she told her mother, somewhat irreverently, it seemed. "Bob thought he was going to fail in business."

"Well, why didn't you tell us? Anyway, what's that got to do with your returning? You haven't a position now? And surely, surely, Tom, you don't intend to get married 'way out West?"

"Nope."

"Well, won't it seem strange? I—"

Poor, little Mrs. Campbell was on the verge of tears.

"You see, Tom, every one knows the truth—"

"No; that's just what they don't know, mummy. No one knew I was Mrs. Densmore all the time—you'll have to admit that, mummy."

And the Campbells had to admit it, of course. Likewise they had to admit that it was just like Tom, after all.

HAIR DYE ANCIENT.

The practice of dyeing the hair no new one. It has been in vogue from the earliest days, says the Washington Star. In ancient Rome recourse was had, in this relation to the hells of green walnuts, which we are told by Tibullus served conceal "the ravages of many years."

The Romans also employed for this purpose the herbs of German "Women," said Ovid, "dye their white hair with the juice of her from Germany, which gives the hair a more fashionable color than it has by nature."

But the women were not alone in this practice. Referring to the practice of the epicurean Laetitia Martialis thus addressed him: "Lae-tinus you dye your hair, wishing make people believe that you a still a youth. Only a moment ago you were a swan, and now in a trill you appear as a raven."

SCIENCE CLUB TO CLOSE ITS SEASON

The Science club of the Normal school will meet for the last meeting of the season tomorrow night. An interesting talk has been prepared by Mr. Spicer on "The Art of Printing." Janet Anderson will also give a talk.

A number of musical programs have been prepared for June third at the Normal school. The children of the training school will sing a cantata on the afternoon of that day. In the evening the ladies' and men's glee clubs will appear together with the normal quartet and a soloist. Both of these programs promise to be interesting.

The normal school and Y. M. C. A. track and field teams will meet in a dual meet at the fair grounds next Saturday afternoon. The normal has a full list of men to enter in each event and is confident of taking the meet.

The normal school baseball team will meet the West Salem team at West Salem next Friday afternoon. Both teams have given a good account of themselves so far this season and a good game is expected.

PEANUTS BAIT TO ATTRACT THE GIRLS

The La Crosse high school baseball team will play its second game with Winona high school next Saturday afternoon. The other game, which was played at Winona, resulted in a score of 2 to 3 in favor of La Crosse. Winona has a strong team and is expected to put up a good fight. The management has announced that all girls who come to the game will be admitted free. Moreover, the first hundred girls to turn out will be given a sack of peanuts. A large crowd is expected.

GIVE JOHN D. SIX HOURS FOR RETURN

CLEVELAND, May 20.—John D. Rockefeller is a legal resident and taxpayer in Ohio and must "produce."

Tax Commissioners Fackler and Agnew of Cuyahoga county today gave Rockefeller until six o'clock tonight to declare his personal property returns. Failing in this the oil king will owe Cuyahoga county the trifling sum of $4,230,000.

Since Rockefeller packed up his $87,000 painting, "The Disputed Boundary," and left his Forest Hill estate in Cleveland last February for Tarrytown, N. Y., the commissioners have been listing his taxable personal property. They announce the amount is $300,000,000, taxable at $1.41 per thousand dollars.

Rockefeller in February promised to return his tax list "in due time."

SPOTLIGHTS

COL. OBRECHT BACK

On the street today is seen again the smiling face of Colonel C. D. Obrecht, the father of the clever Obrecht sisters and his popular son, shaking hands with his friends from whom he has been separated by a short sojourn out of the city. "I'm feeling splendid," he said, "and everybody is anxious to reappear at the La Crosse theater tonight where we have been accorded such a generous welcome. Yes, it costs some money to operate a stock company, but it's worth it. It was my son's and daughters' ambition to have a first class organization and I tried not to deny them anything. Special scenery, wardrobe, royalties for plays and electrical effects cost a pretty penny, but I am satisfied with the investment and its returns."

"On next Thursday night we shall produce a three act comedy entitled 'Father's Way,' and in this play I will have the pleasure of presenting Mr. Van Dyke, whom hundreds of La Crosse playgoers know, with the rest of my happy family."

OBRECHT STOCK COMPANY

In spite of the circus and other counter attractions the Obrecht Stock company entertained another large and enthusiastic audience at the La Crosse theater last night. The play went with the usual dash and ginger that characterize the Obrecht players and throughout the four acts of "Dolores" the audience found plenty of interest to entertain, comedy that provided laughter and startling climaxes to applaud.

Mr. Christy Obrecht, in the comedy role of "Willie Burton," continued to create laughter in his original mirth provoking way. Mr. Van Murrel as the irrepressible "Gabe Hanks," and George Montserrat as "Judge Shangles," conjured up a constant array of laugh provoking situations. The Obrecht sisters were as delightfully entertaining as ever, both in their stage work and their splendid musical renditions.

Commencing Thursday evening a rural comedy drama of village life will be presented entitled "Father's Way." The story tells of the trials, love and domestic tribulations of a little country village wherein father attempts to smooth the troubled waters and finds plenty to do. The play is particularly interesting to those who are married, or who are going to be. And then again it's interesting to the whole family because even mother, sister, brother, cousins and neighbors all are brought to realize that "Father's Way" was not so bad after all. The play will also serve as a vehicle to introduce H. Walter Van Dyke of the original Van Dyke & Eaton company that made such a success here a few years ago. Mr. Van Dyke will appear in the title role and no doubt hundreds of his friends who have been shaking hands with him in the past few days will be present to greet him with a royal welcome. "Father's Way" will be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, with the usual Saturday matinee.

NO CLUE TO THE BARRE ROBBERS

No clues as to the identity of the robbers who broke into William Meier's grocery store and saloon and later into John Hempton's home in Barre Mills Saturday night have been found by Undersheriff George Ritter. Up to this afternoon the authorities have been unable to locate any traces to work on and their only hope of catching the guilty parties lies in the chance that they will attempt to sell some of the loot. Nobody in the vicinity of Barre Mills has been able to furnish any information about the robbers.

Does Tango

Reduce Flesh?

The violent movements of the modern dances naturally tend to keep flesh down, but they also tend to put an extra strain upon the vital organs, especially the heart, and so may damage the health more than assist it. Besides, many people do not dance, some people do not believe in dancing, and few people can afford the time to dance enough to really accomplish much reduction. A better way to dissolve fatty tissue easily and quickly without dieting is by taking the parnotis treatment, made at home as follows: Put 4 ounces parnotis (from your druggist's) in 1½ pints hot water and strain when cool. Take a tablespoonful before meals until weight is where you want it. No harm results from the use of parnotis treatment, and the flesh is left solid and the skin soft and smooth.

Daddy's Bedtime
StoryThe Little Girl
Who Rode
The Bear.

PERHAPS being brought up with Jack and entering into all the things that Jack did had made Evelyn very fearless. Jack never tried to frighten her, so that she never thought about being afraid of anything. He would take her for wonderful coasting in the express carts, and as long as Jack did the steering Evelyn always felt absolutely safe.

So daddy thought it would be rather amusing to tell the children of a little girl he had once seen ride a bear. He began thus:

"One day there came to the village where this little girl lived a man with a performing bear. The man would sing a song which sounded like 'Ah, dud-dy-ung, dud-dy-ung, dung, dey,' and the bear would dance around on his hind legs. Then, of course, the people would throw the bear pennies."

"Now the man became annoyed because he did not get more money. So he said he would have the bear climb a pole for any one who would give him 10 cents. Some one gave 10 cents and up the pole the bear scrambled."

"Then more dancing followed, but the people became rather tired of it and the man had to think of something quite new with which to amuse the people so he would make more money."

"He called out to the crowd:

"Now, whoever will give me a twenty-five cent piece may have a ride on the bear. He is quite safe and will not harm any one. Come along, come along! Who wants to ride the bear?"

"As you might think, nobody was particularly anxious to ride the bear. But the man discovered that there was some kind of a discussion going on between some people. So once more he called out:

"The person who takes this ride will be given a good, long one—all the distance to the next corner."

"That was practically a block, and that is really quite a distance to ride on a bear as I found out by watching the little girl who finally did ride him. She had a lot of trouble keeping on."

"Did a little girl finally ride him?" asked Evelyn.

"Yes," said daddy. "One little girl in the crowd was begging her big brother to give her 25 cents so she could ride the bear. She longed to ride one, as she thought it would be lots of fun, and she wasn't a bit frightened. Her big brother thought the bear looked very mild and so he finally gave in."

"The little girl thought she had never had such fun in her life, and she quite felt like a real circus performer with the crowds of people following and watching her. As she had always thought circus performers were wonderful people she quite enjoyed making believe she was one."

SURE, YOU FOUGHT THE PURE FOOD LAW

In a political advertisement appearing on the second page of this paper Tuesday evening we find the following:

"We venture to say that not a man who took part in the ('regular' republican-stalwart) convention ever opposed the pure food law or any sane movement to improve the condition of working women or working men."

Note the joker—"sane!"

Show that the stalwarts opposed a measure to help working people, and the answer will be that it was not "sane."

Now, about the pure food law: The amendment which made it comprehensive and gave it "punch" was passed in 1905. It was promised by the progressive republicans in the campaign of 1904. You opposed that ticket and platform. You offered no platform support of such an amendment. You can't find a word in your political records where the stalwart excepted it from their opposition to the general progressive republican program. Your stalwart members of the legislature opposed its passage.

You opposed the laws providing shorter hours for women and children, and placing a minimum age limit on child labor—Was that "sane?" Was that calculated "to improve the condition of working people?"

You opposed the workmen's compensation law—was that "sane?"

Was that calculated "to improve the conditions of working people?"

You opposed the minimum wage law—Was that "sane?" Was that calculated "to improve the conditions of working people?"

What laws "to improve the conditions of working people" have you supported? Name one, and prove it from the record of stalwart votes in the legislature.

In another political advertisement on the same page the stalwarts publish Confession No. 1. It is an attack on the primary law. They fought it years ago, when it was first up for passage, and they are still fighting it.

Stalwarts in the legislature, the same who are numbered among your leaders now, opposed the railroad legislation—taxes, rates, etc. Look at the legislative record.

Don't forget, in case of dispute as to facts, that we have but to turn to the "Roll Call."

DEMANDS VIGOROUS ACTION AT ONCE

If it be true that the Wisconsin Livestock Sanitary Board, after hearing charges that dairy cows infected with tuberculosis are being scored as healthy, and that their milk is being sold under the protection of state law, has assumed the position that it will not investigate these charges, but will act only after local authorities have "worked up the case," they should be summarily removed by the governor.

It matters not if the charges are entirely without foundation. The barest possibility that they are true should spur the board to instant and thorough-going action. The lives of defenseless children may be involved. We cannot comprehend the viewpoint of a board composed of honest, public spirited, humane citizens who can sit back self-sufficiently and say to others: "Prove it!"

However, this matter should not go by default, even though state authority declines to accept its responsibilities with relation to the charges. The city council should provide Dr. Furstman with whatever is necessary to prosecute a thorough investigation. This city should protect its young from the results of incompetence or possible dishonesty in dealing with the public health. Nor should Dr. Furstman rest his personal labors, irrespective of such assistance. He has opened up an important subject. He should so move as to compel the state board to act in a matter its attitude toward which is, to say the least, questionable.

THE DECENT THING

OSHKOSH, Wis., May 15.—Mrs. W. L. Essman, Milwaukee, came here to take charge of the Oshkosh office of the state free employment bureau. She will take up the work of Miss Anna E. Powers, who is on a vacation.

The foregoing news dispatch explains itself. Mrs. Essman's husband is serving a term in prison for an offense against the state committed while holding a public office. Governor McGovern is being criticised for thus having let the state take care of the wife of a criminal.

The Tribune has no patience with this criticism. We have charged the governor with delay and lack of vigor in the prosecution of Essman, but the appointment of the wife, the chief sufferer by her husband's conduct, to a living position strikes us as the decent thing. The time will come when the state recognizes it as a duty to take care of those made dependent by the imprisonment of their legal supporters.

WANT $10,000,000 FUND

CHICAGO, May 20.—Every member of the 10,000 Presbyterian churches in the United States will be asked to contribute to a $10,000,000 fund for general church work. This plan was evolved today by the executive commission of the 126th general assembly of the church.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

The Style

Oh, how I love the old straw hat I bought four years ago; I poked it into some new shape it never before did know. And then it is in vogue again, Quite swell and up-to-date; It is the best investment that I've chanced to make, of late. This year I jumped on it a lot, And beat it up a pile; I let a car run over it, And lo! it's right in style.

"D" Was Dandy

"What do you mean by writing me that my Jimmie can't pass into the next grade?" stormed an irate woman, bursting into the principal's room. "An' after him doin' such grand work all the year." "Why, Mrs. Flaherty," replied the teacher, "you must know better than that. I've sent you his report cards every month, and you know that his marks have been nearly all 'D's.' "Indade they hov, and yit you say he can't pass. I don't understand it, mum."

"I'm afraid you don't understand our system of marking. 'D' means deficient, you know."

"Sure, I don't know that that may be, mum, but Jimmie told me all about the letters. Sure, 'D' is dandy, 'C' is corking, 'B' is bum, and 'A' is awful—an' he's got 'C's' and 'D's' every month."—Harper's Magazine.

Bright Boy

For four consecutive nights the hotel proprietor watched his fair, timid guest fill her pitcher at the water tap.

"Madam," he said, on the fifth night, "if you would ring this would be done for you."

"But where is my bell?" asked the lady.

"The bell is beside your bed," replied the proprietor.

"That the bell," replied the proprietor. "Why the boy told me that was the fire alarm and that I wasn't to touch it on any account."

Particular About It

"Why is there such a hot fight over the appointment of a postmaster in this little town?" asked the stranger.

"The office doesn't pay anything much, does it?"

"That ain't it, mister," replied the native. "You see, most of us are particular as to who reads our postal cards."

Catarrh is Often Deep Seated

Local Congestions May Indicate Much Internal Inflammation.

Just because catarrh affects the nose and throat, few people realize how deep-seated it may be until it creeps into the bronchial tubes and settles down into the lungs. The way to treat catarrh is to recognize the fact that it is in the blood.

And there is only one blood purifier that can be safely used. It is S. S. S., the most powerful, the most searching, the most assimilative blood remedy known today, for it is not a mineral, but a vegetable remedy.

The medicinal components of S. S. S. are relatively just as essential to well-balanced health as the nutritive properties of the grains, meats, sugars and fats of foods.

Any local irritating influence is the blood is rejected by the tissue cells and eliminated by reason of the stimulating influence of S. S. S.

You will soon realize its wonderful influence by the absence of headache, a decided clearing of the air passages, a steadily improved nasal condition, and a sense of bodily relief that proves how completely catarrh often infests the entire system.

You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores. It is a remarkable remedy for any and all blood affections, such as eczema, rash, lupus, tetter, psoriasis, boils, and all other diseased conditions of the blood. For special advice on any blood disease write Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Co., 532 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Carefully avoid any and all substitutes for S. S. S. There is nothing "just as good."

From the Mother's Magazine.

Among Laura's toys was a rubber cat of which she was very fond. One day she came home carrying a neighbor's kitten.

"This kitty is nicer than my kitty," she said, enthusiastically. "This isn't rubber, it's a meat kitty, and it's got pins in its paws."

"DANGEROUS BUSINESS

This phrase may have caught your eye: "The dangerous business of being a baby."

It is the most dangerous business in the world. No regiment of soldiers ever charged a battery of such dangers as many thousands of regiments of little children face.

The pitiful "children's crusade" that melted away in the eastern forests—back there in the middle ages—has its counterpart today for ever and ever so many babies. Homer describes one of his heroes as having all the courage of a fly. John Ruskin has a most delectable comment on the simile. The utter fearlessness that comes from utter ignorance of danger—no lion has it, no Richard has it. But the fly has it, and the Greek God-hero and the little baby of the slums. At Baladava "some one had blundered." There are blunders that make this dangerous business of being a baby so needlessly dangerous. What better orders can be given by the civilization that rules the fate of children than to countermand the blunders of the past?—Kansas City Star.

TENOR HATES JAIL.

Taken to jail Sunday morning, compelled to use a broom and sweep out his cell at the Charles street jail, in Boston, where he was detained for six hours in the suit brought by Oscar Hammerstein for $30,000, Florencio Constantino, the Boston opera tenor, is recovering his equilibrium at the Bellevue. But he is still angry.

"I was betrayed by a woman detective who wanted to hear me sing," Constantino said. "and then we went on a hunt for bail, but could find no one I knew. It was late at night. Then the big constable said, 'Come with me, and I went to the jail—ugh!'"

"A man comes to my cell. He pokes a broom through and tells me to clean up. I, Constantino, sweep the floor, but no one know me. Then I get bail and go home. It was awful."

John O' Jamestown

His speech was grave and kind; I could not but be moved by it, and I would have given much to be able to tell him that his warning came too late, but I clung to my dogged silence as to a refuge. He quitted his chair and came and stood close at my side, with his hand resting on my shoulder.

"Is all confidence dead between us, lad?" he asked gently.

"No," I said. "No, no, father—not that—"

"Dick, you care about the maid?" I nodded; that was the only answer I could give him.

"From my heart I pity you, Dick, for I dare not think that it can ever be."

"Why?" I asked.

"For the reasons I have given," he said; and I burst out with:

"How do you know Captain Maxwell would not be glad to have her posed of? Do his actions show that he has any plans for her beyond keeping her hidden away here? After all, she will either care for me, or not—as the case may be."

"But you have not spoken to her, Dick?"

"No," I said.

"Thank God for that! You must think of her as you think of Betty—"

"I can't!"

"Oh, Dick—Dick!" he said regretfully. "I blame myself that I did not speak of this matter to you sooner!"

"To what end?" I asked.

"To the end that you might have put all thought of her from you—"

"Even if I had striven to do that the result would have been the same. Who cares for her as I care for her?" I cried.

"That is not the question, Dick," said my father patiently.

"It's much the question to me!" I flamed out.

"No, Dick, you will do what is honorable, no matter what the sting is. You will not speak of your love for Mary, because you cannot in justice to her. You care something for her happiness as well as your own."

Direct opposition I might have stood out against, but my father was both gentle and reasonable, the last I knew only too well; and the weight of what he said bore in upon me in spite of myself, for after all I would not have him think my love utterly selfish.

"I'll not speak to her now, but I can promise you no more than that," I said unwillingly.

"Is all I desire you to promise me, Dick," said my father.

I got to my feet, and again he rested his hand on my shoulder.

"Does it mean so much to you?" he asked.

"God help me; it means everything!" I answered, as I went from the room.

CHAPTER SIX.

I was resolved to keep the promise I had made my father, and I avoided Mary as much as I could. Perhaps I did this in part with the hope that she would observe the change in me and demand I tell her the reason of it. God knows I passed through all the many gradations of despair; becoming moody and silent, spending whole days together far out on the fells with the shepherds. My poor mother, who was not in the secret, was sure some insidious complaint had laid hold on me, and begged me to see the surgeon; whilst Betty, guessing some part of the truth vowed that if I but took to writing verse she would consider it indisputable evidence that I was in love.

I might explain that there was a young gentleman in the neighborhood of most excellent family and prospects who was paying court to Betty herself. He had taken to verse as a relief from his disorder, and it had been my privilege to hear much of what this silly moon-struck fellow had written, every line of which spoke of a desolating melancholy, for our Betty was as uncertain in her humours as a spring day. I own it put me in something of a huff that she should profess to see even an outward semblance in the feeling I was manfully endeavoring to hide, and what I was pleased to consider Mr. Thomas Preston's puppy love, but I wisely forbore to say so.

His speech was grave and kind; I could not but be moved by it, and I would have given much to be able to tell him that his warning came too late, but I clung to my dogged silence as to a refuge. He quitted his chair and came and stood close at my side, with his hand resting on my shoulder.

"Is all confidence dead between us, lad?" he asked gently.

"No," I said. "No, no, father—not that—"

"Dick, you care about the maid?" I nodded; that was the only answer I could give him.

"From my heart I pity you, Dick, for I dare not think that it can ever be."

"Why?" I asked.

"For the reasons I have given," he said; and I burst out with:

"How do you know Captain Maxwell would not be glad to have her posed of? Do his actions show that he has any plans for her beyond keeping her hidden away here? After all, she will either care for me, or not—as the case may be."

"But you have not spoken to her, Dick?"

"No," I said.

"Thank God for that! You must think of her as you think of Betty—"

"I can't!"

"Oh, Dick—Dick!" he said regretfully. "I blame myself that I did not speak of this matter to you sooner!"

"To what end?" I asked.

"To the end that you might have put all thought of her from you—"

"Even if I had striven to do that the result would have been the same. Who cares for her as I care for her?" I cried.

"That is not the question, Dick," said my father patiently.

"It's much the question to me!" I flamed out.

"No, Dick, you will do what is honorable, no matter what the sting is. You will not speak of your love for Mary, because you cannot in justice to her. You care something for her happiness as well as your own."

Direct opposition I might have stood out against, but my father was both gentle and reasonable, the last I knew only too well; and the weight of what he said bore in upon me in spite of myself, for after all I would not have him think my love utterly selfish.

"I'll not speak to her now, but I can promise you no more than that," I said unwillingly.

"Is all I desire you to promise me, Dick," said my father.

I got to my feet, and again he rested his hand on my shoulder.

"Does it mean so much to you?" he asked.

"God help me; it means everything!" I answered, as I went from the room.

CHAPTER SIX.

I was resolved to keep the promise I had made my father, and I avoided Mary as much as I could. Perhaps I did this in part with the hope that she would observe the change in me and demand I tell her the reason of it. God knows I passed through all the many gradations of despair; becoming moody and silent, spending whole days together far out on the fells with the shepherds. My poor mother, who was not in the secret, was sure some insidious complaint had laid hold on me, and begged me to see the surgeon; whilst Betty, guessing some part of the truth vowed that if I but took to writing verse she would consider it indisputable evidence that I was in love.

I might explain that there was a young gentleman in the neighbourhood of most excellent family and prospects who was paying court to Betty herself. He had taken to verse as a relief from his disorder, and it had been my privilege to hear much of what this silly moon-struck fellow had written, every line of which spoke of a desolating melancholy, for our Betty was as uncertain in her humours as a spring day. "Put that notion away, you have not offended me—you could not, Mary!" I muttered huskily. Much more rushed to my lips, though I kept it back. But her eyes did not lose their troubled look; uncertainly questioning, she gazed at me.

START FIRE NEAR

KING'S PAVILION

ALDERSHOT, Eng., May 20.—A serious fire, supposedly of suffragette origin today broke out in the furze in the Long Valley, close by the Royal pavilion, where King George and Queen Mary are staying for the maneuvers. Their majesties had left the pavilion when the blaze was discovered.

The fire was extremely difficult to combat and was not extinguished for a considerable time. Several fire companies were called out and the military fire engines were put into play.

When the king and queen left the pavilion, two suffragettes were seen at the entrance, waving "Votes for Women" banners.

TWO AMERICANS

LEFT IN RUNNING

SANDWICH, ENGL., May 20.—Charles W. (Chick) Evans of Chicago, and Harold Weber of Toledo, Ohio, were the only Americans left in the British amateur golf championship here this afternoon. The decisive defeat of Francis Ouimet by Tubbs threw a decided damper over the Americans which was only partly dispelled a few moments later by Herreshoff's victory over J. R. Platt. Weber's defeat of K. M. Carlisle and Evans' worsting of Scott merely offset the defeat of Arthur G. Lockwood and Ouimet.

Frederick Herreshoff of New York was defeated one up by the Hon. M. Scott leaving but two Americans, Evans and Weber in the championship.

PRESBYTERIANS ASK WAR UPON STYLES

Statement to Delegates of General Assembly Blames Modern Life for Increase of Social Evil

HIT TANGO, DRESS AND LITERATURE

Urged that Church Organize Counter Attractions to Offset Questionable Amusements

CHICAGO, May 20.—"The increasing craze for unchaste and excitable amusements, together with certain aspects of modern life, contribute to the increase of the social evil, now assuming alarming proportions," is the statement made in the blue book of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church (U. S. A.) and distributed to delegates today. The "certain aspects" pointed out as dangerous to the welfare of the womanhood of the land are the tango, immodest dress, suggestive novels, inflaming moving picture shows and the teaching of sex subjects in public schools.

Declaring that the unfortunate circumstance was that women who made religious pretensions were just as indulgent in manners and immoral dress as women without church affiliations, the book calls upon the women of the Presbyterian church "to a practical separation of themselves from these tendencies and lend their influence against all extremes of dress and seek to lead society in a more wholesome direction."

The report urged that the church organize counter attractions to offset "questionable amusements" and "keep not only her youth but large bodies of women and men out of the path of evil."

Although the general assembly does not get under way until Thursday, pre-assembly conferences were held today.

FIRST ARREST IN COLORADO STRIKE

Series of Prosecutions Is Expected to Follow the First Move by the Operators

TRINIDAD, Col., May 20.—Wholesale criminal charges in connection with the fighting which resulted from the recent battle of Ludlow are expected today to follow the arrest of Victor Banoni, Trinidad bartender, on charge of murdering Edward Kessling, an employee of the Fortness mine, was killed during the attack on that mine by the "flying column" of strikers April 29, when eleven mine guards and strikebreakers met death.

This is the first arrest arising out of the recent disorders. Union leaders threaten to retaliate by getting warrants for Undersheriff Zeke Martin and officials of the mining companies.

It was skated at military headquarters today that a grand jury to investigate all strike disorders would probably be called within two weeks. The move will be the first by the coal companies to obtain punishment of men responsible for the destruction of the Forbes, Empire and Southwestern mines and the attacks on the camps at Delagua, Hastings, Berwind and Tobasco.

Would Keep Troops

FORT SMITH, Ark., May 20.—President Wilson was petitioned to retain United States troops in the Colorado coal strike region in resolutions adopted by the mine workers' convention of Oklahoma and Texas and today forwarded to Washington.

That a campaign of extermination is being waged with machine guns and gunmen by John D. Rockefeller and the Standard Oil interests against unionism was asserted in the petition.

DECORATION WORK AT CAPITOL IS LET

MADISON, Wis., May 20.—The capitol building commission in session here today spent most of its time considering the proposed paintings for the supreme court and general hearings rooms in the new state capitol. The paintings for the supreme court room, in the east wing, will be made by Albert Herter, a New York artist.

In the north wing which is now being constructed there will be a general hearing room for the accommodation of the hearings of the railroad, industrial and tax commissions. The paintings for this room will be made by Charles Yardley Turner, the well known figure painter.

SAYS VILLA HELD BATTLE FOR FILMS

Ohio Man Declares He Delayed Torreon Assault for $50,000 Picture Rights

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, May 20.—That General Pancho Villa, military genius of the Mexico constitutionalists, delayed the battle of Torreon and needlessly sacrificed hundreds of lives in order to secure $50,000 for exclusive moving picture rights, was claimed here today by J. M. Woltz, official of a local steel company, just back from Mexico.

Woltz, who in the vicinity of the Torreon engagement, declared Villa planned to make a strategic night attack, but representatives of a Los Angeles film company registered such a protest that he delayed the assault until daylight. This enabled the federals to hold out for many days and cost the lives of about 1,000 rebels but it netted Villa $50,000, Woltz declared.

The Torreon campaign was only one that Villa started for the service of the "movie" operators, declared Woltz.

NOVEL PLAN FOR COMMENCEMENT

MADISON, Wis., May 20.—A new commencement idea will be tried this year by the graduating class of the Thorp High school under the leadership of Principal Lascher. Instead of the usual essay program the High school graduating class will take trip to Madison, where it is planned to have the members of the class meet the governor, see the new capitol and visit the university. The state superintendent's office indicates that this is the first school in the state to try the novel plan.

SAYS CLUBS MUST HAVE A LICENSE

Holding U. S. License Regarded by Owen as Prima Facie Evidence of Law Violation

MADISON, Wis., May 20.—No club or association can furnish liquor to its members without a liquor license.

The holding of a United States government license by a club operating in dry territory is prima facie evidence of a violation of the excise laws of this state.

These two statements were made by Attorney General Owen today in an opinion to District Attorney R. N. Nelson of Dane county today.

"It is true as you say that there is no decision of our courts on the question involved," says the attorney general, "but the question has often been passed upon by the courts of other states, but the decisions do not agree. The question was passed upon by my predecessor in an official opinion to the district attorney of Rock county. The conclusion there reached was that in Wisconsin if liquor is sold by clubs without a license the excise laws are thereby violated. I see no reason for a different ruling by this department at the present time. It seems to me that the test in every case of this nature is whether the title to the liquor has passed through the club. It is undoubtedly true that a person may purchase liquor, and if he is a member of the club, may put it in a locker and consume it at his pleasure and treat his friends with it, but if the club purchases the liquor and then, after having acquired title, furnishes it to its members, it seems to me that there can be no question but that the excise laws of this state have been violated. I believe this is true whether the club is incorporated or not, as it is well established that a corporation and also a partnership may be licensed to sell liquor in this state."

T. R. SUMMONS IN CHIEFS OF MOOSE

OYSTER BAY, L. I., May 20.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt, refreshed by a good night's sleep, almost forgot about his new South American river today in making the acquaintance of his newest grandchild, Richard Derby, Jr., infant son of the former Miss Ethel Roosevelt.

George W. Perkins, chairman of the national progressive committee, was due to arrive during the day and other party leaders were known to be on the way to Sagamore Hill.

RAINS SAVE TREES IN THE PENINSULA

Upper Michigan Forest Fires Checked but Emmett County Danger Increases

CALUMET, Mich., May 20.—Heavy showers today throughout the Lake Superior district did much to check the forest fires that for two days past have been sweeping through the upper peninsula, destroying much property and endangering the lives of settlers. The rainfall was the first in this district in four weeks. As a result of the down-pour the fire situation in the upper peninsula was practically under control today.

PETOSKEY, Mich., May 20.—The forest fire situation in Emmett county was unimproved today and a strong southwest wind which sprang up shortly after midnight did much to offset the work of fire fighters. At noon today the flames were approaching Bliss. Four buildings in the outskirts of the village were destroyed this morning.

CADILLAC, Mich., May 20.—Serious forest fires were reported today in the famous hardwood forest of Wexford county. In the townships of Selma, Cherry Grove, Colfax, Boon and Henderson the fires are seen to be burning fiercely and rapidly getting beyond control.

LATIN PLAYLET IS GIVEN BY PUPILS

A Latin playlet entitled "A Latin School" was given by a number of students in the Latin department during general assembly at the high school today. The characters were all noted men of Roman history and the scene of the play was a Latin school room.

When the curtain rose, the pupils were seen playing various games. They all took their seats on the arrival of the "magister" or school teacher. A series of recitations followed, a few of them being: Little Jack Horner, Jack and Jill, and other rhymes translated into Latin. Thereafter orations were delivered by Caesar and Cicero concerning their ambitions. The play ended with a speech called "Pome of o'Possum," which was a mixture of Latin and English and of a humorous nature.

The play was well received by the school and the strictest attention was given throughout, although but few of those hearing it were able to understand what was said on the stage. The part of the "magister," the most difficult of all, was carried by Lloyd Bovee with great success. Another part of the performance, which pleased the hearers was the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers" in Latin.

UNIFORM SERVICES FOR THE CHURCHES

Methodist Congregations in This District Will Follow Set Form Laid Down in Discipline

Services in Methodist churches in the La Crosse district will follow a set order hereafter, following the adoption of a resolution by the district ministers, in session here yesterday and today, urging that all pastors conform to the order laid down in the church discipline. The resolution was passed at this morning's session of the ministers' meeting, following a discussion of the subject of uniform services by W. T. Macauley of Tunnel City and C. J. Beers of Onalaska.

This evening's program will conclude the meeting. The conference was attended by twenty-seven delegates from out of the city. Many local people were also at the meetings.

G. H. R. Kershaw of Mauston delivered a very interesting sermon at last night's meeting, which was held at the West Avenue M. E. church, on "The Brotherhood of Man." His talk was heard by a large gathering and his sermon was impressive. Rev. F. L. Harding, New Lisbon, presided and G. H. Marshall of Eleva led the song service.

District Superintendent L. A. Brenner of Sparta conducted the meeting of the ministerial class this morning, following which Rev. J. E. Watson of La Crosse spoke on "The Responsibility of the Ministry to the Beneficences," and Rev. F. W. Straw, Sparta, discussed the "Indianapolis Method." R. H. Clark, Arcadia, led a discussion on "The Best Methods of Increasing the Membership," while David Levin of Whitehall spoke on the topic "Shall We Change the Time of Our Meeting From Spring to Fall?"

Roy Dunbar led the devotions this afternoon. He was followed by C. L. Clifford, Reedsburg, and Rev. M. E. Fraser, La Crosse, who discussed "The Community Social Service." "My Pastor, From the Layman's Point of View," was the topic handled by C. A. Veeder. An interesting discussion on "The Pastor and Local Politics" was led by A. E. Fredericks, Kendall, A. R. Klein, Merrillan, and A. H. Shanley, Ironton.

Luncheon have been given by the ladies during the conference. Today's luncheon was in charge of Mrs. R. M. I. Kinnear, who had charge of the dining room. Mrs. P. J. Wilder, who supervised the kitchen, and Mrs. A. W. Schall, who had general supervision.

MORGAN RAN THE NEW HAVEN ROAD TO SUIT HIMSELF

len went over the purchase of the Rhode Island trolley system and the Worcester, Nashua and Rochester railroad. In the former, Folk plans to show that former Senator Nelson W. Aldrich was interested and in the latter that the stock was secured from the Mutual Life Insurance company. Folk said he believed Mellen would be on the stand the rest of the week.

Folk questioned Mellen at length regarding $300,000 in notes given by the Boston Herald and W. E. Hoskell to the New England Navigation company and later turned over to the Billard company. Folk endeavored to indicate a connection between the loan and the passage by the Massachusetts legislature of a bill authorizing the New Haven to hold the Boston & Maine.

"The loan was made a year or two before the bill was brought up in the legislature," Mellen insisted. "Outside of those loans made to yourself and Billard, can you tell us of any other large sums loaned by the New Haven or its subsidiaries?" Folk asked.

"There were such loans, but I cannot remember to whom."

"Had you any connection with the reorganization of the Boston Herald company?"

"Yes. I was at some of the meetings representing the Billard company, and met several lawyers and all of the reorganization committee."

Connection Not Admitted.

"It was not generally known that the navigation company, a New Haven subsidiary, had a big interest in the Boston Herald before the reorganization, was it?" Folk asked.

"No, it was not advertised," said Mellen.

Mellen emphatically denied that the New Haven had forced the passage of the holding bill through the legislature.

Mellen said the bill was passed to permit the New Haven to buy back its control of the Boston & Maine from the Billard company. He said he had passed upon its merits at the request of Timothy E. Byrnes, former vice president of the New Haven.

"He was your legislative and publicity agent?" demanded Folk.

"No, Mr. Choate was our legislative agent, and so far as Byrnes being a publicity agent is concerned, let me say a railroad man cannot avoid publicity these days. Some of us get too much."

Mellen declared that the real trouble with the New Haven merger with the B. & M. was the ownership of the trolley lines by the latter.

And most of our tragedies look like comedies to our neighbors.

EXCLUDE DYING WORD OF GUNMAN

Dago Frank's Statement Exonerating Becker Is Not Allowed by the Judge

BY FRED J. WILSON (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

NEW YORK, May 20.—Charles Becker's defense against the charge of murdering Herman Rosenthal received a staggering blow today when Supreme Justice Seabury excluded from the case evidence to show that Dago Frank Cirofici, one of the actual killers, exonerated Becker of complicity, "so far as he knew" an hour before he died in the electric chair.

This crisis in the defense came when Becker's counsel called Thomas F. McInerney, principal keeper of Sing Sing prison, to the witness chair. McInerney with Warden Clancy and Prison Chaplain Father Cashin, heard "Dago Frank's" confession.

When the prison official was sworn, Justice Seabury at once excluded the jury. The twelve men filed out of the court room and Martin T. Manton, for Becker, started a hard fight to get the testimony in. District Attorney Whitman made only a few remarks, but Justice Seabury, on questions of law, ruled against Becker on every point.

Manton, however, was allowed to question McInerney and bring out the central facts that it might be entered on the records for purposes of appeal.

Alibi Is Issue

On the seemingly trivial question of who first told Charles Becker by telephone of the murder of his foe, Herman Rosenthal on the morning of July 16, 1912, hung at least a portion of Becker's alibi when the trial of the former police czar was resumed today.

Frederick Hawley, once a reporter, was on the stand for cross examination by District Attorney Whitman. Hawley, in Becker's favor, swore that the police lieutenant could not have taken part in a conference with Bald Jack Rose and Bridge Webber, informers, on Forty-second street, at which, both testified, he congratulated them on the murder of Rosenthal by the four gunmen they hired.

Hawley declared after Rosenthal was killed he called Becker on his private wire, and told him of Rosenthal's murder. Becker, he swore, came downtown, and was met by Hawley.

District Attorney Whitman's cross examination was scheduled to bring out that Rose, not Hawley, first told Becker of the killing; and that when he talked to Hawley his acute brain was already using the reporter to "frame up" his alibi.

The formal dismissal of Rev. Henry Faville as pastor of the First Congregational church, and the installation of Rev. Carlos C. Rowilson as his successor was effected at the session last night of the district convention of Congregational churches. The statement of belief of Rev. Rowilson was unanimously accepted by the installation council.

The session this morning included a devotional service at nine o'clock, led by Rev. Harry Milford of Retreat, the roll call of churches, a talk on "The National Council Annuity Fund," by Rev. H. S. McKee has for some time been pastor of the federated church in West Salem.

The afternoon session opened with a business meeting at 2 o'clock, followed by an address by Rev. R. T. Bayne of Viroqua on "Cultivating Denominational Loyalty." Rev. W. M. Ellis, president of Endeavor Academy of Endeavor, Wis., spoke on the work and the purpose of the academy, followed by an address by Rev. H. W. Carter of Madison on missions. Rev. The women's meeting convened at 4 o'clock after which the visiting ministers and laymen were taken for an automobile ride.

TRANSFER ESTOVER FROM LA CROSSE

Railway Mail Service Chief Clerk Here Is Sent to Milwaukee Terminal

George W. Estover, chief railway mail clerk for this division with headquarters in La Crosse, today received official notice that he has been transferred to the terminal office in Milwaukee in District No. 9. The change takes effect on June 1. David Evans of Bangor will take Mr. Estover's place here.

Some time ago Mr. Estover requested that he be transferred to some other point because of the strenuous work which is connected with this district. This district is large and the chief clerk's duties are hard.

Mr. Estover has made an excellent record in this district.

Mr. Evans, the new chief clerk here, is well known in La Crosse. He will take charge of the local office as soon as Mr. Estover leaves. Mr. Estover will probably take a week's vacation in order to move to Milwaukee. The change takes place June 1.

Other chief clerks who have been transferred or promoted are as follows according to word received by Mr. Estover:

Frank F. McBride, transferred from Fargo, N. D., district 7, to Chicago, district 6, vice Charles C. Flint.

August F. Collier, promoted to chief clerk of district 7, at Fargo.

William M. Prudeaux, promoted to chief clerk of district 5, at St. Paul.

The public library has just received as a gift, a curious piece of workmanship, in the form of a wreath made of native nuts, grain and leaves. It is the handiwork of a former old resident of this vicinity. Mrs. Amanda Eggleston, who presented it to Mrs. Bert Broadwell. When Mrs. Broadwell moved away from Tomah she left it with Mrs. E. M. Cowles with the arrangement that on her death it should be presented to the library. In accordance with this plan Mr. Perry E. Cowles presented it to the library board and it is now at the library.

Improvements at Spring Bank

Spring Bank, the popular summer resort seven miles west of the city is now open for the summer season. Last Sunday about seventy-five people were out there and enjoyed the various sights. Among the several improvements is a large cottage built on the edge of the pond and which will accommodate a large number of people. A cave has been built at the head of the south branch of the pond. Numerous people, when at Spring Bank, take walks up to see it. In front of several cottages new foundations have been built which are very attractive. A large number of picnics are held here this year and during July and August the cottages are rented out to camping parties.

Tennis Court Built

The tennis court which is being built on the vacant lot between the two Kress buildings is about completed and in a short time will be ready for use. It was built by the several men who work for the long distance telephone company and several other people in the Third ward. ITCHING ECZEMA IS DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Use like cold cream to subdue irritation and clear the skin.

Constant or intermittent irritation producing itching and red, angry Eczema patches on the skin is readily relieved with bold-sulphur cream. The moment it is applied the itching stops and the healing begins, says a noted dermatologist.

It effects such prompt relief, even in aggravated Eczema that it is never-ending source of amazement to physicians.

For many years bold-sulphur cream has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous eruptions by reason of its cooling, parasitic-destroying properties. It is not only parasiticidal but also antipruritic and antiseptic and nothing has ever been found to take its place in overcoming irritable and inflammatory affections of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure, yet in every instance it instantly stops the agonizing itching; subdues the irritation and heals the inflamed raw skin right up and it is often years later before any Eczema eruption again appears.

Those troubled should get from any pharmacist an ounce of bold-sulphur cream and apply it directly upon the affected skin like you would any ordinary cold cream. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded is very welcome, particularly when the Eczema is accompanied with itching.

SALTILLO BATTLE UNDER WAY TODAY

Strict Censorship on Press Matter Leads to Belief

Fighting Is Going On

BY N. C. PARKE

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

JUAREZ, Mexico, May 20.—

Constitutionalists under General Torres have occupied the outskirts of San Luis Potosi south of Saltillo, according to a dispatch received here this afternoon from General Carranza at Durango.

The dispatch said severe fighting, in which 380 federals were slain, preceded the occupation.

Carranza added that he had given orders for attacks on Saltillo, San Luis Potosi and Aguas Calientes immediately.

JUAREZ, Mexico, May 20.—

The battle of Saltillo is believed to be on today.

General Francisco Villa has established a strict censorship and not a single message has been received from correspondents at the front since early yesterday. Constitutional officials have had no word from Villa since Sunday night.

The last news from the front reported advancing constitutionalists sweeping in the federal outposts.

The most significant war news received today was that Gen. Manuel Chao, deposed as military governor of Chihuahua state by General Villa, is in Para, Chihuahua, in conference with General Luis Herrera, military commander of that section. Chao was supposed to be at Saltillo.

For several days rumors have been flying that Villa's enemies within the constitutionalists ranks were plotting to overthrow him after the battle of Saltillo. The story was that General Maclovio Herrera, was to be placed at the head of the army in the march on Mexico City, depriving Villa of the prestige to be gained by capturing the capital city and eliminating him as a possible contender for the presidency.

GRATEFUL CANADA.

From the Toronto Mail.

British investors have placed in Canada about $2,500,000,000. It was chiefly by British capital our great railway systems were built, our large public improvements were carried out, our leading industries established, and the development of our resources generally was brought to its present stage.

Here's one more thing to be thankful for: This is the closed season for picnics.

U.S. IN BETTER HEALTH THAN EVER

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The United States is in better health than it ever was and its inhabitants are living longer, according to figures for 1913 given out today by the census bureau.

Washington was the healthiest state with a death rate of 8.5 per thousand and North Carolina had the highest mortality rate, 16.8. Memphis, Tenn., was apparently the unhealthiest city. Its death rate was 20.8. Seattle was the prize good health town with a rate of only 8.4. New York City showed the biggest death rate reduction in five years with a 24.7 per cent drop in that period.

The death rate for the nation in 1913 was 14.1 per thousand, a reduction of one in eight compared with the average of ten years ago.

MACHINE OIL SPOTS

Such spots will readily disappear. If spot is well dampened with cold water and then rub on quite a little soap, and rub between hands with more water. Never put hot or even warm water on any grease spot, for this method only tends to spread spot and sets it.

The parade of the Lower Wall Street Business Men will be reviewed by the president on May 23. The name and the date do not indicate a bull market.

Is Blond Hair

Most Popular?

The too-common use of peroxide and hair bleaches would lead us to think that blond hair is much more desirable than the darker shades. If we did not realize that the thing women want is not so much the very light tresses as the contrast they make with features naturally supposed to be crowned with darker hair. Nature's plan is always the best in these matters. Just keep the hair perfectly clean and healthy and your natural hair will be so attractive that artifice will be unnecessary. Warm weather makes frequent shampooing necessary to keep the hair bright, clean and fluffy, and if you shampoo with canthrox

When Men Talk About Women

Women wonder what the men say. Now, two men talk in public: both husbands. One man answers, "Is Any Woman Easy to Live With?" and he doesn't let the chance go by to "take hold." Another tells, "What I Saw in My Wife to Marry Her" and writes a story that "may sound like a mighty strange reason for marrying a girl:" told just as a man would talk, with a point that every man will see. They are real "men stories," but for women and men.

MEDIATION FATE TO COME QUICKLY

Believed Success or Failure of Plans Will Be Apparent in One Week

NO WORD YET OF SILLEMAN

All Officials of Government Not as Optimistic as Secretary Bryan

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Interest in the Mexican situation shifted to Niagara Falls, Ont., today. The American commissioners to the mediation conferences left here early today. They expressed hope that their mission would succeed.

Commissioners Lamar and Lehman believed it would be possible to determine within a week whether there was hope of success. The mediators are in sympathy with the general contentions of the United States and will probably use their influence to have the Huertista representatives make the concessions necessary to success.

Meanwhile, the attitude of the constitutionalist representatives here continued defiant. They asserted that there will be no compromise with Huerta.

The administration, however, is not considering Carranza at this time. It is desirous that Huerta's position be definitely outlined and then this government will be in position to make demands on the constitutionalists with exact knowledge of just what is wanted.

Nothing is known positively regarding the fate of Consul Silliman at Saltillo. Certain high officials do not accept the optimistic views of Secretary of State Bryan, who has taken at their face value the assurances of Huerta that Silliman is safe.

ACTS AS LANDLORD.

With only 10 cents per acre rental collected, the city of Superior is landlord to a number of men, mostly of foreign birth or parentage, who will engage in dairying and market gardening. To make the deal the more attractive in the majority of instances the city has agreed if the terms of the lease are lived up to by the lessee, that he shall receive a stipulated sum per acre upon surrender of his rights.

Under the terms of the leases the lessee agrees to clear not less than two acres each year and to cut out and clear a narrow road along the border of the land. Otherwise he is left free to do as he pleases with the tract, usually ten acres in size, although it is understood when each takes hold that he will do the gardening or dairying.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed with Sulphur It Brings Back Its Lustre and Abundance

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

WHITMAN SPOILS DEFENSE EVIDENCE

Smashes Flat Story Told by Jacob Reich, First of the Becker Witnesses

BY FRED J. WILSON (United Press Staff Correspondent.) NEW YORK, May 20. — Ripping through the defense of Charles Becker, accused murderer of Gambler Herman Rosenthal, District Attorney Whitman yesterday smashed flat the story told by Jacob Reich, alias Jack Sullivan, Becker's witness.

His thick lips reeking profanity, his tale foul with the slime of New York's underworld, Sullivan for more than two hours told of an alleged plot by "Bald Jack" Rose, "Bridgie" Webber and Harry Vallon to saddle on Becker's shoulders the killing of Rosenthal.

"You say you talked with Rose about the gunmen after Rose told me they killed Rosenthal?" was Whitman's first question on cross-examination.

"Yes," was Sullivan's reply after he had twisted and squirmed so that the question had to be four times repeated.

"Don't you know that not one gunman was arrested until long after that, and that there was then not a whisper of their names in the case? And the rest of your story is as true as this?"

At this shot Sullivan, trying to shout explanations, visibly quailed in his chair and Becker covered his face with his hand.

Two Weeks or More in Colorado —as Inexpensive as Home

You will be surprised to learn how little it costs to spend two weeks or more in Colorado. I have corrected many wrong impressions about Colorado's Hotels and Boarding Houses and my road, "The Burlington" (C. B. & Q. R. R.) now gets out a booklet showing how reasonably and pleasantly one can spend a vacation in Colorado. "I would love to go to Colorado on my vacation this summer, but the Hotel prices are so high"—used to be the expression of many. Five minutes talk convinced them otherwise. Colorado has her share of elaborate Hotels, but Colorado has lots of comfortable boarding places where the rates are as low as $8.00 a week—clean surroundings and wholesome appetizing fare.

I would like to give you a copy of our booklet. It will give you an entirely different idea about Colorado's Hotel expenses, a complete list of Hotels and boarding houses, their locations, rates, conveniences, elevations and other information. In addition, it gives full particulars on Colorado—its attractions and points of interest.

Haiti is under something over $60,000 more indebtedness to the banks than it was a couple days ago, but it has a big weight lifted off its shoulders. It is no longer under obligation for that amount to a certain obscure British citizen who has been calling loud and long for his check. The disposition of Haiti to pay the debt may be allowed, but it was so dreadfully poor that until an ultimatum of a time limit was given backed up by a British man of war the little republic did not see a way to pay what it had indefinitely put off. Haiti has experienced salutary check on its procrastination of payments of debts.

INSURING GOOD DIGESTION

Importance of Preventing Food Fermentation in Stomach

Good digestion usually means good health. So long as the stomach does its work properly disease can find no lodgment in the human system; the liver, kidneys and intestines will perform their work perfectly and remain in perfect health; but permit anything to interfere with the proper digestion of food, an unending train of troubles is set in motion. About the only thing that will upset the stomach and interfere with digestion is an excess of acid, usually caused by food fermentation. Food fermentation is due to chemical action in the food itself. This fermentation causes the formation of gas, or wind, as well as acid, resulting in the unnatural distention of the stomach and the burning by the acid of the delicate lining of the stomach.

Medicine and tonics cannot relieve this condition—they usually make it worse. The fermentation and acid are to blame and these must be overcome and prevented by taking after meals a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. Physicians recommend bisurated magnesia especially because it stops and prevents fermentation of food and neutralizes the acid instantly, making it bland and harmless, without irritating the stomach in any way. Get a little bisurated magnesia from your druggist and try it the next time your food ferments and upsets your stomach. Note how quickly the acid is neutralized and how soon you forget that you have such a thing as a stomach.

TELLS OF HORRORS OF LUDLOW

Says Brutality of Militia Equals Barbarism of Goths and Vandals

CHICAGO, May 20.—"Colorado is sitting on a volcano. Withdraw the federal troops and there will be war—a war of reprisal so terrible that one shudders to contemplate it."

This was the statement of Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver, Col., who arrived here today enroute to Washington with a party of Colorado women. With him were Mrs. Lee Champion, representing the Colorado women's relief committee, and the following survivors of the battle of Ludlow: Mrs. Pearl Jolly, Mrs. Harry Petrucci and Mrs. M. H. Thomas and her two small children.

"We are going to beg the president not to withdraw the regulars," continued Judge Lindsey.

Judge Lindsey characterized the horrors of Ludlow as "unbelievable." He said that events which followed the attack on the miners' tent colony at Ludlow by the state militia were "only equalled in stories of the sack of Rome, the pillage of Carthage and the inhumanities of the Balkan wars."

"The true story of what took place is too horrible to print," said Judge Lindsey. "We can only suggest it and fill in the outlines with the direct testimony of these women who suffered. As one instance of what took place—and I have affidavits to back this up—a father went to the militia camp for his little boy, who was missing. He was saluted with the child's corpse. The head had been shot off and the body half burned. A soldier threw it to him over a tent and said: 'Here, take the thing.'"

"Mothers who went to the rescue of their babes were shot down and brutally mutilated. Children only a few years old were killed. The handiwork of barbarians in the most unholy days of the Vandals and Goths could not have been more cruel than what took place at Ludlow."

DON'T DODGE TRUTHS YOU CAN'T ESCAPE

Six years ago a man in West Allis, Wisconsin consulted a physician. He complained of being tired and in a somewhat run down condition. He wanted a tonic to brace him up. The physician upon close questioning found that he had lost some weight and coughed occasionally. The patient made light of his symptoms and insisted that he was not really ill but needed merely a "bracer."

The physician made a thorough examination of the patient and finally concluded that he had to deal with a case of consumption. He frankly told his visitor so and advised proper treatment. The patient however would have none of it. He pooh-poohed the suggestion. It was utter nonsense.

Instead of beginning treatment he consulted another doctor. The latter told that patient what he wanted to hear—that he had no tuberculosis and that he "needed only to take care of himself for a time, and he would be all right." Fortified in this manner, the patient vented his spleen upon the first doctor, Dr. Blank, who had made him uncomfortable for a moment.

West Allis is not a large town. The news that Dr. Blank was "crazy on the subject of tuberculosis" was easily and rapidly spread. The doctor lost patients. Many new ones did not wish to consult a physician who "exaggerated the symptoms of a little cold into a dangerous case of tuberculosis," etc.

It was just the other day that the patient died—of tuberculosis. It took six years to vindicate Dr. Blank. The patient never did apologize for his libelous statements. More than that, I believe I am safe in guessing that he never even forgave the doctor for telling him an unpleasant truth. Strange commentary on human nature, that, isn't it?

The story is being duplicated all over the state many, many times each year. Indeed it illustrates one of the most important reasons why tuberculosis succeeds in killing so many people. Ask your family physician, for instance, if he hasn't had a similar experience. Some practitioners have had it happen so often that they have quit telling their patients unpleasant truths for which they are rewarded by abuse only. Others, of more heroic mould, stick to their duty and suffer as a consequence in pocketbook and reputation.

JAUNTY BOWS.

When the aligrette on the otherwise "perfectly good" hat wits, take it off promptly, for nothing so completely spoils the appearance as a shabby bit of millinery. In its place—if you don't care to at once buy a fresh aligrette—use a jaunty bow of ribbon. The newest sort of bows have three broad, long loops, partially overlapping each other and extending backward, and one short loop extending forward. They should be light wired, and should center under a fluffy bar.—Washington Herald.

PENROSE, PALMER, PINCHOT NAMED

HARRISONBURG, Pa., May 20.—Boies Penrose, republican; A. Mitchell Palmer, democrat, and Gifford Pinchot, Washington (progressive), will head their respective parties for election to the United States senate in November. This was assured today, with comparatively full returns from yesterday's state primary.

Penrose in his first direct appeal to the people, was nominated for reelection to the United States senate by more than 100,000.

Palmer was nominated by 50,000. Pinchot opposed for the bull moose nomination, polled a comparatively small vote.

ANOTHER REASON.

From the Louisville Courier-Journal.

Another perfectly good reason for "pure shoes" legislation is that it is so disappointing to an arctic explorer to bite into a boot which he bought at cowhide prices and find that it is imitation leather.

"I cannot say too much for Penrose. It has entirely cured me of my trouble. My eye lids were thick and red nearly all the time. My eyes were especially sensitive to light. Catarh was my trouble. I had had my eyes treated and took a great deal of medicine, but nothing seemed to help me until I tried Penrose. I always use Penrose when my family need it. Always find it very good; it helps wonderfully. You can use my testimonial anywhere you wish to."—So says Mrs. C. Skehan, No. 614 S. Leavitt St., Chicago, Ills.

TRY A LITTLE SALTS IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER ARE TROUBLING YOU

Salts flushes Kidneys without injury; also neutralizes uric acid, ending Bladder irritation.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it. Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble. Agent, Chas. A. Beyschlag, Druggist, 503 Main street.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD BY HAL SHERIDAN

After dropping six games straight, the Pirates stepped into the win column yesterday by overpowering the lowly Braves 7 to 5.

The National leaders bunched four hits in the fourth, and with two walks off Crutcher and an error by Evers, five runs were scored.

McGraw had to send in Big Six yesterday to stop the Cincinnati Reds triumphant trek. Methewson came through 5 to 2, and incidentally pasted Batter Bates, the first man he had hit in three years.

The wildness of Davenport, Cincinnati heaver, who allowed seven blows and eight passes in eight innings, made things easier for Christy.

Alexander's ascension in the "lucky seventh" when the Cubs landed for five clean blows while the Quakers made three errors, yielded five runs, and O'Day's men took the second straight game from the Phillies, 6 to 1.

The Naps, making errors at times most convenient for the Senators, dropped the third consecutive game at Washington 4 to 2.

Slicing a big chunk of the Tigers' model percentage in the American, the Boston Red Sox defeated Detroit for the third time of their series, 6 to 4. Dubuc's string of five straight victories was snapped.

Only one Mackman, McInnis, who singled, saw first yesterday, and Eddie Cicotte pitched the White Sox to their first victory this year over the Athletics, 3 to 0.

By knocking Mordecai Brown out of the box, Buffalo beat the St. Louis Browns 11 to 6. Six successive swats, one a triple, and another a double, caused old Three Fingers to remove himself. Eight runs were scored that inning.

Cy Falkenberg hoofed hurler, led the Tiptops safe, while his team mates hammered three pitchers for 19 hits, winning rather decisively 15 to 2.

GOTHAM HOTBED OF ANARCHISTS

Radical Agitators Have a Freer Rein in New York Than They Ever Had Before

BY CARLTON TEN EYCK
(Written for the United Press.)

NEW YORK, May 20.—"Never in their worst days were the blackest centers of Russia, and other European countries where anarchy is fostered, any worse than certain of New York in regard to breeding spots for agitation against established government."

That statement made a few days ago by one of the most prominent of New York's police officials, and a man who has studied anarchy and anarchism for thirty years along with his study of crime, aptly tells the situation in this metropolitan center of the "Home of the Free." There isn't a shadow of doubt that anarchists and radical agitators generally have a freer rein in New York today than they have ever had before. And, strange to say, the man who is insisting on giving the "public forum speakers" and agitators the loosest sort of "free speech" rein is no other official than Mayor Mitchell, who recently narrowly escaped assassination at the hands of a poor maniacal old crank whose mind no doubt had become violently twisted through hearing day after day everything from God to government denounced by anarchists in the public squares.

Of course, some of these public forum speakers represent honest, God-fearing reasonable organizations such as union labor, etc., which are protecting reasonably against certain conditions that even the most conservative, tory-minded individuals admits are all wrong. But the majority of these speakers are preaching anarchy as black and destructive as can be heard anywhere.

Sneak in Parks.
At Union Square, at the foot of Benjamin Franklin's statue in Park Row, in Rutgers Square, and other public rostrums these speakers exhort crowds. It is not infrequent that a Socialist speaker and anarchist or an I. W. W. extorter begin to talk at the same time and within a few feet of each other. When this happens, the speakers make it fun for the crowds by heaping abuse on each other's heads.

The occupation of Vera Cruz and the Trinidad, Colo., coal strike in which militiamen and strikers shot each other down, furnished basis for such talk by these speakers. The two events first brought to general notice "Sweet Marie" Ganz, Reba Edelson, Gussie Miller, and other girls who follow Emma Goldman, Alexander Berkman, "Wild Joe" O'Carroll, who led the church riots, and the teachers at the Ferrer School of Anarchy.

"Sweet Marie" Ganz, by the way, was so named in irony, by the police because of her foul tongue when harranguing mobs. Besides threatening to kill John D. Rockefeller, Jr., on sight, the Ganz girls cursed and blasphemed, hurled vile epithets at men and women in the crowd who annoyed her by jeering or asking her questions, and made herself generally the very opposite of the name the police gave her.

Marie is a pink and white complexioned girl of 23. Her figure is of the voluptuous type and her eyes and mouth are extremely sensuous. If she did not follow too closely the habits of Emma Goldman in dressing she would make rather an attractive girl. Women critics might say that Marie's figure is sloppy or inclining to fat.

Girl is Jailed.
The Edelson girl, who they say is extremely jealous of Marie because of the latter's ability to "pull the limit and get away with it," until she was finally jailed for 60 days for threats, was thrown into a Tombs cell after causing a riot by her exhortations. Reba, or Becky as she prefers to be called, is very nice looking.

She is light and exceedingly well proportioned and is very tidy in her dress. Maybe that's one reason Marie doesn't get along so well with Reba. All these women call themselves "Red Virgins," and "Red Angels." The police say it ought to be "Black Angels."

Save For Vacations.
There are 8,000 working girls of New York City who are not going to stick in the stuffy old office city during the hot spell this summer. These girls, members of the Vacation Savings Fund Association have been planning their vacations during the cold and dreary wintry months, and they have something like $10,000 to spend on a good, healthy vacation.

None of the members of the association get more than $15 or $20 a week. By far the big majority average around $6 and $12 weekly. The Vacation Savings Association was planned by several wealthy women of the city who take charge of the funds and chaperone the vacations. These wealthy women have contributed not one penny toward the fund. The girls do it all themselves. During the winter, under the direction of their patronesses they give entertainments and dances which bring in some of the money. The remainder is gathered through a tax levied on their salaries and put away during the winter. At one entertainment at Grand Central Palace last winter the girls took in $5,000.

RASH ON ARMS ITCHED AND BURNED
Especially at Night. At Times Got No Sleep At All. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.
400 South Hermitage Ave., Chicago, Ill.
"I was attacked with a breaking out on the inside of my arms. It was a small rash or pimples and it itched and burned, especially at night, so that before I knew it I had made myself sore. I had to wear the finest kind of cotton underwear, no woolen at all, because the least thing irritated it and made it much worse. The rash itched and smarted until at times I got no sleep at all.
"I had this trouble and took treatments for about one year, but they only gave me relief while taking them. Then I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I got relief right away. I made a good stout lather of Cuticura Soap and washed myself every night and morning, drying myself with a good soft towel, and then applied the Cuticura Ointment. In three months I was a well man again." (Signed) H. W. Foley, Nov. 5, 1912.
TO REMOVE DANDRUFF
Prevent dry, thin and falling hair, allay itching and irritation, and promote the growth and beauty of the hair, frequent shampoos with Cuticura Soap, assisted by occasional dressings with Cuticura Ointment, afford a most effective and economical treatment. A single set is often sufficient. Cuticura Soap (25c.) and Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."
Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

Mother Stanislaus Tells of Recovery

Neglected throat trouble, and continued coughs and colds, often weaken the system. Investigate reports of recoveries brought about by Eckman's Alternative. Here is one:—
Convent of St. Anne, Sanford, Fla.
"Gentlemen:—In February, 1911, four doctors examined my throat and pronounced the necessity of an operation. Having heard at Peekskill, N. Y., Motherhouse of the Sisters of St. Francis, where I was visiting, of Eckman's Alternative, I determined as a last resort to try it. After taking four or five bottles large pieces of diseased tissue came away. I continued the Alternative, to my grateful and daily relief. In ten months I was restored to perfect health. I would like them to see and hear from my own lips if they so desire, all I would say of it."
(Signed) (Abbreviated)
MOTHER M. STANISLAUS

MOTHER AND TWO PERISH IN FIRE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 20.—Trapped by a fire while asleep Mrs. Rebecca Coltz, 24, her son Morris, 3, and her daughter, Lottie, 4, perished early today. Her husband, Samuel, escaped from the third floor of the burning dwelling by leaping to the next house. Firemen found the three victims huddled together on the floor after the blaze was put out.

Headache and Dizziness

Headache is never a disease. It is always a symptom. Applications, powders and tablets that drug the headache into quietude are treating the symptoms, not the disease, always a useless proceeding and often harmful.

When headache is associated with some dizziness it is usually the result of nervous exhaustion and will continue as long as the person who is overworked allows the debility to continue. It rapidly disappears when rest and the proper tonic is taken.

Nervous exhaustion, the cause of such headaches and dizziness, results from a strain on the nerves, results which the rebuilding work of the blood is unable to keep pace. The best tonic for such a condition is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. With this treatment, unless the overwork, worry, or whatever has caused the nervous breakdown, is persisted in, the headaches, dizziness, nervousness and irritability that characterize neurasthenia rapidly disappear.

The Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., will send free on request a helpful little book on the home treatment of nervous disorders. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are obtainable at any drug store.
